Expansive and sun-filled, this Mid-Century home is privately set on 23.7 secluded acres in Copake. High ceilings and generous living spaces define the 5 bedroom, 3.5 bath main residence, which features three fireplaces, a spacious primary suite, large screened porch, glass-enclosed sunroom, multiple decks, generator, and attached two-car garage. Set apart from the main residence, the barn-style guest house offers exceptional flexibility with three additional bedrooms, two full baths, and its own well, septic system, generator, and electric meter--ideal for extended family, guests, a home office or studio, or potential rental income. The beautifully established grounds are a standout feature of the property, with mature perennial gardens, specimen trees, dramatic rock gardens, and broad fields and meadows creating a wonderful sense of privacy and connection to the landscape. A gunite in-ground pool completes this distinctive country compound, offering abundant space for gathering, relaxing, and enjoying the natural beauty of the Hudson Valley.
