Tucked into more than 20 private acres in the beautiful hills of Alford, 32 Crooked Hill Road is the kind of country home that invites you to settle in and stay awhile. Open meadows, mature woodland, mountain views, and expansive lawn creates a setting that feels wonderfully removed from the everyday. The approximately 4,600-square-foot home is generous yet welcoming. At its heart is a dramatic great room with soaring ceilings, a fireplace, warm wood floors, and a wall of windows and French doors that fills the space with light and draws your eye outdoors. With four bedrooms and four and a half baths, there is plenty of room to gather with family and friends while still finding quiet spaces of your own. Summer days naturally move outside--to the large swimming pool surrounded by gard and stone walls, a game of tennis on the private court, or simply a chair overlooking the meadow and distant hills. There is a wonderful ease to the property, with spaces designed as much for everyday enjoyment as for entertaining. And while it feels like a world of its own, restaurants, shops, galleries, and cultural attractions are just a short drive away. Private, beautiful, and meant to be enjoyed, this gracious country retreat captures so much of what makes life in the Berkshires special--a place to gather, unwind, and make your own.
